Muscogee Moms LLC Presents The Coupon Tutor (again!)

COLUMBUS, GA, May 30, 2010 -- Muscogee Moms LLC is hosting The Coupon Tutor-- a couponing workshop featuring Kelly Pressy at KellysCouponAddiction.com.

Learning the art of couponing can be confusing and overwhelming. Kelly will show you how to be a strategic shopper and save money when you go shopping. You'll learn coupon terminology, where to get coupons, how to organize them, coupon policies and tips for local stores, including Publix, CVS, Target, and Walgreens, stockpiling basics and more!

The Coupon Tutor workshop will be held at the Columbus Public Library on Saturday, June 26. It will be held in Synovus Room (side A) from 10:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. Cost is only $20 and includes a folder of take home materials, a detailed outline, game plan and coupons to get you started.

To register, send an email to Charlotte@MuscogeeMoms.com or visit the MuscogeeMoms Facebook page. Limited spaces are available.

About Kelly Pressy

Kelly, a wife and mother of one, started couponing in 2009 after both she and her husband lost their jobs. After watching a demo on how to use coupons on Oprah, she taught herself to become a strategic shopper with an average of 80% savings. Today Kelly conducts group and one-on-one classes, actually going shopping with you to further explain how to maximize your savings.
